

TOGETHER WE GROW AND LEARN

Monday 19th June 2017

Dear parents/carers,

During the next half term, all of our children will be receiving 4 lessons on Sex and Relationships. These will take place each morning (Monday- Thursday) week commencing Monday 26th June.

As you may know from our previous Sex and Relationship work, the lessons we sensitively design are based upon the age of children and their development needs. Our policy on Sex and Relationship Education outlines what children will be taught in different areas of school and this can be found on our website or can be requested at our school office.

We understand that you may have questions about the lessons or that you may want to be able to support your child at home with anything they learn. Please contact your child's class teacher if this is the case and they will be happy to talk you through the lessons and the materials that will be used. If you are concerned about your child's Special Educational Needs or their level of development then, again, please contact your child's class teacher to discuss the provision for them.

Because Sex and Relationship Education is not a statutory part of the National Curriculum, parents may choose to withdraw their children from the sessions if that is their wish. If this is the case, please fill out the slip below and alternative arrangements will be made for your child.

Yours sincerely

Mr S K Walker

TOGETHER WE GROW AND LEARN

Monday 19th June 2017

Dear parents/carers,

During the next half term, all of our children will be receiving 4 lessons on Sex and Relationships. These will take place each morning (Monday- Thursday) week commencing Monday 26th June.

As you may know from our previous Sex and Relationship work, the lessons we sensitively design are based upon the age of children and their development needs. Our policy on Sex and Relationship Education outlines what children will be taught in different areas of school and this can be found on our website or can be requested at our school office.

We understand that you may have questions about the lessons or that you may want to be able to support your child at home with anything they learn. Please contact your child's class teacher if this is the case and they will be happy to talk you through the lessons and the materials that will be used. If you are concerned about your child's Special Educational Needs or their level of development then, again, please contact your child's class teacher to discuss the provision for them.

Because Sex and Relationship Education is not a statutory part of the National Curriculum, parents may choose to withdraw their children from the sessions if that is their wish. If this is the case, please fill out the slip below and alternative arrangements will be made for your child.

Yours sincerely

Mr S K Walker

TOGETHER WE GROW AND LEARN

Monday 19th June 2017

Dear parents/carers,

During the next half term, all of our children will be receiving 4 lessons on Sex and Relationships. These will take place each morning (Monday- Thursday) week commencing Monday 26th June.

As you may know from our previous Sex and Relationship work, the lessons we sensitively design are based upon the age of children and their development needs. Our policy on Sex and Relationship Education outlines what children will be taught in different areas of school and this can be found on our website or can be requested at our school office.

We understand that you may have questions about the lessons or that you may want to be able to support your child at home with anything they learn. Please contact your child's class teacher if this is the case and they will be happy to talk you through the lessons and the materials that will be used. If you are concerned about your child's Special Educational Needs or their level of development then, again, please contact your child's class teacher to discuss the provision for them.

During the next half term, all of our children will be receiving 4 lessons on Sex and Relationships. These will take place each morning (Monday- Thursday) week commencing Monday 26th June.

As you may know from our previous Sex and Relationship work, the lessons we sensitively design are based upon the age of children and their development needs. Our policy on Sex and Relationship Education outlines what children will be taught in different areas of school and this can be found on our website or can be requested at our school office.

We understand that you may have questions about the lessons or that you may want to be able to support your child at home with anything they learn. Please contact your child's class teacher if this is the case and they will be happy to talk you through the lessons and the materials that will be used. If you are concerned about your child's Special Educational Needs or their level of development then, again, please contact your child's class teacher to discuss the provision for them.

Because Sex and Relationship Education is not a statutory part of the National Curriculum, parents may choose to withdraw their children from the sessions if that is their wish. If this is the case, please fill out the slip below and alternative arrangements will be made for your child.

Yours sincerely

TOGETHER WE GROW AND LEARN

Monday 19th June 2017

Dear parents/carers,

During the next half term, all of our children will be receiving 4 lessons on Sex and Relationships. These will take place each morning (Monday- Thursday) week commencing Monday 26th June.

As you may know from our previous Sex and Relationship work, the lessons we sensitively design are based upon the age of children and their development needs. Our policy on Sex and Relationship Education outlines what children will be taught in different areas of school and this can be found on our website or can be requested at our school office.

We understand that you may have questions about the lessons or that you may want to be able to support your child at home with anything they learn. Please contact your child's class teacher if this is the case and they will be happy to talk you through the lessons and the materials that will be used. If you are concerned about your child's Special Educational Needs or their level of development then, again, please contact your child's class teacher to discuss the provision for them.

Because Sex and Relationship Education is not a statutory part of the National Curriculum, parents may choose to withdraw their children from the sessions if that is their wish. If this is the case, please fill out the slip below and alternative arrangements will be made for your child.

Yours sincerely

Mr S K Walker

TOGETHER WE GROW AND LEARN

Monday 19th June 2017

Dear parents/carers,

During the next half term, all of our children will be receiving 4 lessons on Sex and Relationships. These will take place each morning (Monday- Thursday) week commencing Monday 26th June.

As you may know from our previous Sex and Relationship work, the lessons we sensitively design are based upon the age of children and their development needs. Our policy on Sex and Relationship Education outlines what children will be taught in different areas of school and this can be found on our website or can be requested at our school office.

We understand that you may have questions about the lessons or that you may want to be able to support your child at home with anything they learn. Please contact your child's class teacher if this is the case and they will be happy to talk you through the lessons and the materials that will be used. If you are concerned about your child's Special Educational Needs or their level of development then, again, please contact your child's class teacher to discuss the provision for them.
